Forests planted by Edmontonians for Edmontonians

Root for Trees is safely returning in 2021, inviting volunteers of all ages to take part in expanding the beauty of Edmonton's urban forest by planting 45,000 trees and shrubs each year.

"The City of Edmonton is proud to have adapted volunteer programs, such as Root for Trees, to be able to operate safely during the pandemic," said Lydia Fialka, Community Greening Coordinator. "As our planting teams are following all COVID-19 safety precautions we encourage everyone to sign up and learn about Edmonton's urban forest."

Root for Trees aims to increase tree planting in Edmonton through continued partnerships with corporations, residents and community groups. Volunteers will not only participate through planting, but will learn more about naturalization and the benefits to our city.

Public registration for this year's Root for Trees program is open and residents of all ages are invited to participate. Bookings can be made through a submission form at edmonton.ca/rootfortrees.

To ensure greater resiliency and sustainability in a changing climate, Edmonton continues to expand and preserve our extensive urban forest with a goal of planting two million trees in the coming years.

Help us make BATURYN better

Baturyn has been chosen for Neighbourhood Renewal, with construction anticipated to start in 2023. Baturyn will see the replacement of its roads and alleys, street lights, sidewalks and curbs and gutters as part of the City of Edmonton's Building Great Neighbourhoods program. We will also explore other opportunities to improve how people walk, bike, drive and roll in the neighbourhood, as well as potential improvements to parks and open spaces.

Thank you to everyone who completed the survey on how to make Harry Farmer Park better and shared their feedback during the Exploring Options and Tradeoffs stage of the project. We discussed upgrades to sidewalks, pathways, crosswalks, school drop-off areas, bike routes, alleys, parks, seating areas, neighbourhood commercial sites and potential community-led projects.

For Harry Farmer Park, 85 residents completed the online survey and told us they:

- + Would like to use the park as a space to relax, walk, play, picnic and gather
- + Prefer to see more lighting and additional / wider pathways in the park
- + Are somewhat interested in seeing the addition of seating, waste bins and fruit bearing trees or shrubs

Over the summer months, our project team will continue to review and consider your feedback, along with technical requirements and City programs and policies, to develop a draft design for Baturyn. The What We Heard reports, the Design Options package, and the initial chapters of the Urban Design Analysis for Baturyn can be viewed through the project webpage at edmonton.ca/BuildingBaturyn.

During the upcoming Community Feedback on Draft Design phase of engagement, we will invite you to provide your feedback for consideration to REFINE the Draft Design as we move towards a final design for Baturyn. Information about cost-sharing opportunities through the Local Improvement Process for sidewalk reconstruction and decorative streetlight upgrades will also be provided. Watch the project webpage and your mailboxes in November 2021 for details and project updates.

For information including project updates, upcoming opportunities to provide feedback or to sign up for news and information, visit edmonton.ca/BuildingBaturyn

Thank you for engaging virtually as we adjust our engagement practices as a result of COVID-19.

New beginnings and new opportunities in Ward 72

Catholic Schools Trustee Sandra Palazzo

The pandemic has turned our world upside down, and in doing so reshaped the way the Edmonton Catholic Schools (ECSD) Board of Trustees connected with its schools, staff, students, and parent/guardian communities over the past year. Both as a board and individually, the Trustees have continued to be responsive to the needs of the school community. Through the use of technology, we met virtually with our MLAs, government officials, and stakeholders to ensure they understood and responded to the needs of ECSD. We continued to provide a student perspective to improving the quality of education in the Division through on-line meetings with the Student Voice representatives. The technology also meant we were able to join our schools for celebrations and school council meetings. When it was deemed safe to do so, we served our schools in a physically distanced manner. We were challenged to creatively figure out ways to maintain effective connections.

The May 26 Public Meeting of the Board also saw our Board of Trustees passing our Division Budget for the upcoming year. You can learn more about the budget by visiting www.ecsd.net or clicking here. Edmonton Catholic Schools has worked diligently to increase funding to the classroom through improvements in the delivery of administration, operations and maintenance. A total of 78.8% of this budget will support student instruction, while system administration expenses are 2.7%, which is lower than the 3.15% cap established by Alberta Education.

We were delighted to see all our in-person learning students return to class on May 25. We look forward to having more stability and structure in the 2021-22 school year. In the Spring, we asked our families to declare their intention for in-person or online learning for the 2021-22 school year. You will have received a notification from your school in mid-June asking you to inform the Division should you have decided to change your choice. You will have until August 2 if you are in a year-round calendar school and August 16 if you are in a regular calendar school to indicate a final change of choice. There will be no changes after August 16 as we will have to staff based on the number of students in each school.

The discovery of 215 children in unmarked graves at the Kamloops Residential School, and the revelation of more graves at other residential school sites, has caused many Canadians to reflect deeply upon the impact of the events that occurred there. For a society that values equity, diversity, inclusion, and anti-racism, the naming of buildings and spaces after historical figures whose actions are no longer considered acceptable in our modern culture has become a point of discussion and action. In our ongoing commitment to bring the Truth and Reconciliation Commission (TRC) Calls to Action to life, our Division felt incumbent to ensure that it was not honouring any aspect of the legacy of the residential school system, and further traumatizing members of the Indigenous communities we presently serve. At a special public meeting in June, the Board of Trustees voted unanimously to rename Grandin School. ECSD will determine what the renaming process will be over the next few months. We would rather take time and do it well and honour the voice of our stakeholders so that the school has a positive journey with a new identity.

Edmonton Catholic Schools has a long and proud tradition of participation in acts of Christian charity, and in this spirit our schools were encouraged to take their students through a broad range of activities that allowed them to experience the many ways that they can make a difference in the world. The 2020-21 Social Justice report which shares the stories of the transformative work performed at our schools was presented to the Board at the June public meeting. The Board is proud of how our students responded to the overwhelming needs in our world, and their desire to make things better. As the leaders of tomorrow, our students are aware that change begins with them. The report can be found on the ECSD website.

We wish to commend our students, families, and staff for managing the turmoil of the pandemic. Your patience, diligence, flexibility and courage has been remarkable. Thank you to every member of the Edmonton Catholic
